The Digital Careers Guide

25 remote careers Nigerians can start, including the ones nobody talks about.

Digital work, explained from the start.

2026 edition

Start here

You don't need to be a developer to earn from the digital economy. This guide covers 25 remote careers you can start from Nigeria, including roles like Affiliate Manager and Partnerships Manager that almost nobody in our space talks about.

Every career follows the same five parts:

- The role: what you actually do each day.
- Skills: what employers look for.
- Tools: the software you'll use on the job.
- Learning path: where to start, mostly with free resources.
- Job titles to search: the exact words to type into job boards.

Don't try to learn all 25. Read through, pick the one or two that fit you best, and go deep. A good rule: pick the career you'd enjoy practising for 90 days even before anyone pays you.

Careers marked HIDDEN GEM are in demand worldwide but rarely discussed in Nigeria, which means less competition for you.

When you're ready for the bigger picture, the last section shows you how to get the full brochure: 524 digital careers and businesses.

1 Partnerships & Growth

> These roles grow a company's revenue through other people's audiences. They're the least talked-about careers in this guide, and a strong fit if you already do affiliate marketing.

Affiliate Manager HIDDEN GEM

The role: Run a company's affiliate program: recruit affiliates, give them what they need to promote, track their sales and pay commissions.

Skills: Partner outreach, relationship management, commission setup, performance reporting, persuasive copy.

Tools: PartnerStack, Impact, Rewardful or FirstPromoter; Google Sheets; email tools like Mailchimp or Kit.

Learning path: Become an affiliate yourself first and track your own results. Then learn how programs are run through the free guides and webinars these affiliate platforms publish.

Job titles to search: Affiliate Manager, Affiliate Marketing Specialist, Affiliate Program Coordinator.

Partnerships Manager HIDDEN GEM

The role: Build and manage relationships with other businesses, creators and affiliates who bring the company customers. Broader than affiliate management.

Skills: Negotiation, partner recruitment, co-marketing campaigns, partner enablement, revenue reporting.

Tools: HubSpot or another CRM, PartnerStack, Slack, Notion, Google Workspace.

Learning path: HubSpot Academy's free sales and marketing courses, then real practice pitching partnerships for your own products or a friend's business.

Job titles to search: Partnerships Manager, Partner Marketing Manager, Channel Partnerships Associate.

Creator Partnerships Manager HIDDEN GEM

The role: Find influencers and creators for a brand, negotiate deals, brief them on content and measure results.

Skills: Creator outreach, rate negotiation, writing content briefs, judging what content converts.

Tools: Instagram, TikTok, YouTube, influencer platforms like Grin or Aspire, Google Sheets.

Learning path: Study what top creators post, practise writing briefs, and offer to manage creator outreach for a small brand to build proof.

Job titles to search: Influencer Marketing Manager, Creator Partnerships Manager, Influencer Marketing Coordinator.

Growth Marketer

The role: Own a number (signups, sales, users) and run fast experiments across channels to grow it.

Skills: Experimentation, funnel thinking, basic data analysis, landing pages, email.

Tools: Google Analytics, landing page builders like Systeme.io or Webflow, email tools, Google Sheets.

Learning path: Google's free Analytics training on Skillshop, then run small experiments on your own funnel and document the results.

Job titles to search: Growth Marketer, Growth Marketing Associate, Marketing Associate (Growth).

Email & Lifecycle Marketer

The role: Write and automate the emails that turn subscribers into buyers and buyers into repeat customers.

Skills: Email copywriting, automation sequences, list segmentation, A/B testing.

Tools: Klaviyo, Mailchimp, Kit, Brevo, HubSpot.

Learning path: Klaviyo and HubSpot both offer free email marketing courses. Build a welcome sequence for your own list as a portfolio piece.

Job titles to search: Email Marketing Specialist, Lifecycle Marketing Manager, Retention Marketer.

2 Sales

> If you can talk to people and handle rejection, remote sales roles often pay a base salary plus commission, so strong performers can earn well above the base.

Sales Development Representative (SDR)

The role: Reach out to potential customers by email, LinkedIn and calls, qualify them, and book meetings for the sales team.

Skills: Cold outreach, prospecting, objection handling, follow-up discipline, CRM hygiene.

Tools: HubSpot or Salesforce, LinkedIn Sales Navigator, Apollo, Gmail.

Learning path: HubSpot Academy's free inbound sales course and Salesforce Trailhead's free sales modules. Practise writing 10 cold emails a week.

Job titles to search: Sales Development Representative, Business Development Representative, Outbound SDR.

Tech Sales Account Executive

The role: Take qualified leads through demos and negotiation to a signed deal for a software (SaaS) company.

Skills: Product demos, discovery calls, negotiation, closing, pipeline management.

Tools: Salesforce or HubSpot, Zoom, Gong, DocuSign.

Learning path: Most AEs start as SDRs. Learn the SaaS sales cycle and practise discovery questions with mock calls.

Job titles to search: Account Executive, SaaS Sales Executive, Inside Sales Representative.

Customer Success Manager

The role: Keep existing customers happy and successful so they renew and upgrade. Part relationship builder, part problem solver.

Skills: Onboarding customers, relationship management, spotting upsell chances, reducing churn.

Tools: Gainsight or HubSpot, Intercom or Zendesk, Zoom, Notion.

Learning path: Many people move into this from customer support. Free customer success courses are available on HubSpot Academy.

Job titles to search: Customer Success Manager, Customer Success Associate, Account Manager.

High-Ticket Closer HIDDEN GEM

The role: Take sales calls for coaches, course creators and agencies selling expensive offers, usually paid by commission per sale.

Skills: Consultative selling, active listening, handling objections, confidence on calls.

Tools: Zoom, Calendly, CRMs like GoHighLevel or Close.

Learning path: Study consultative sales frameworks, record practice calls and review them. Start with smaller offers to build a track record.

Job titles to search: Remote Closer, High-Ticket Sales Closer, Sales Consultant (Commission).

A warning: some "closer" roles are commission-only. That's normal in this niche, but never pay to join a closer program or "academy" to get placed.

3 Content & Marketing

> The most popular entry point into digital work. Competition is higher here, so a portfolio of real results matters more than certificates.

Social Media Manager

The role: Plan, create and schedule content for a brand's social pages, engage the community and report on growth.

Skills: Content planning, short-form video, caption writing, analytics, trend awareness.

Tools: Canva, CapCut, Meta Business Suite, Buffer or Later, Notion.

Learning path: Meta Blueprint's free courses, then grow one account (yours or a small business's) and document the before and after.

Job titles to search: Social Media Manager, Social Media Coordinator, Content & Community Associate.

UGC Creator HIDDEN GEM

The role: Brands pay you to make authentic-looking videos about their products for their ads and pages. You don't need a big following.

Skills: On-camera confidence, hooks and scripting, basic editing, understanding what makes an ad convert.

Tools: Your phone, CapCut, natural light or a ring light, a simple portfolio site.

Learning path: Make 3 to 5 sample videos for products you already own, build a portfolio, then pitch brands directly.

Job titles to search: UGC Creator, Content Creator (Contract), Video Content Creator.

Copywriter

The role: Write words that sell: sales pages, ads, emails and product descriptions.

Skills: Persuasion, research, clear writing, understanding customer pain points.

Tools: Google Docs, Grammarly, Hemingway Editor, AI writing assistants for drafts.

Learning path: Study classic direct-response copy, rewrite real sales pages for practice, and build a portfolio of 3 to 5 samples.

Job titles to search: Copywriter, Conversion Copywriter, Content Writer.

SEO Specialist

The role: Help websites rank on Google so they get free, steady traffic.

Skills: Keyword research, on-page SEO, content briefs, link building, reading analytics.

Tools: Google Search Console, Ahrefs or Semrush, Google Analytics, WordPress.

Learning path: Semrush Academy and Google's free Search Console training. Rank a small site of your own as proof.

Job titles to search: SEO Specialist, SEO Content Strategist, SEO Analyst.

Paid Ads Specialist

The role: Run and optimise paid ads on Meta, Google and TikTok so every naira or dollar spent brings back more.

Skills: Campaign setup, audience targeting, ad creative testing, budget management, ROAS tracking.

Tools: Meta Ads Manager, Google Ads, TikTok Ads Manager, Google Analytics.

Learning path: Google Skillshop (free Google Ads certifications) and Meta Blueprint. Start with a small budget on your own offer.

Job titles to search: Paid Media Specialist, Performance Marketer, Media Buyer.

4 Online Business & E-commerce

> Thousands of online businesses need people to run their stores, launches and communities behind the scenes. Organised, reliable people do very well here.

Amazon & E-commerce Specialist

The role: Help online sellers run their stores: product listings, Amazon PPC ads, inventory, launches and FBA (Fulfilled by Amazon) operations.

Skills: Listing optimisation, PPC campaign management, product research, basic reporting.

Tools: Amazon Seller Central, Helium 10 or Jungle Scout, Shopify, Google Sheets.

Learning path: Amazon Seller University (free videos from Amazon), then practise with mock listings and PPC case studies.

Job titles to search: Amazon Virtual Assistant, Amazon PPC Specialist, E-commerce Specialist, Shopify Store Manager.

Online Business Manager HIDDEN GEM

The role: The right hand of a business owner. You manage projects, team members and systems so the business runs smoothly. A step up from a virtual assistant.

Skills: Project management, team coordination, process documentation, reporting, problem solving.

Tools: ClickUp, Asana or Notion, Slack, Google Workspace, Loom.

Learning path: Start as a virtual assistant or executive assistant, learn one project management tool deeply, and document every process you run.

Job titles to search: Online Business Manager, Executive Assistant, Operations Coordinator, Chief of Staff (small business).

Course Launch Manager HIDDEN GEM

The role: Run the launch of an online course or digital product for a creator: the funnel, emails, content calendar, affiliates and launch-day support.

Skills: Funnel building, email marketing, project timelines, affiliate coordination, sales page basics.

Tools: Systeme.io, Kajabi or Teachable, email tools, Notion or ClickUp.

Learning path: Launch a small digital product of your own first. That one launch becomes your case study.

Job titles to search: Launch Manager, Launch Strategist, Course Operations Manager.

Community Manager

The role: Grow and look after a brand's online community on platforms like Discord, Slack, Skool or WhatsApp. You run events, answer questions and keep members active.

Skills: Moderation, event planning, engagement ideas, member feedback, warm communication.

Tools: Discord, Slack, Skool or Circle, Notion, Zoom.

Learning path: Volunteer to moderate or grow a community you're already in, then document your results.

Job titles to search: Community Manager, Community Coordinator, Community Engagement Specialist.

5 AI & Data

> AI is creating new roles faster than schools can teach them. None of these require you to code.

AI Trainer HIDDEN GEM

The role: Help train AI models by writing example answers, rating AI responses and checking facts. Often flexible, project-based contract work.

Skills: Clear writing, attention to detail, fact-checking, following detailed guidelines. Subject expertise (law, health, finance, a language) often pays more.

Tools: The company's own annotation platform, Google Docs, research tools.

Learning path: Apply directly to established AI training companies through their official websites. Pass their skill tests carefully, because quality scores decide how much work you get.

Job titles to search: AI Trainer, AI Writing Evaluator, Data Annotation Specialist, Language Specialist (Yoruba, Igbo, Hausa, Pidgin).

Be careful: this field attracts scams. A real AI training company never asks you to pay a fee or buy a "starter kit."

No-Code Data Analyst

The role: Turn a company's raw numbers into clear reports and dashboards that help them decide what to do.

Skills: Spreadsheets, data cleaning, charts and dashboards, basic SQL, explaining insights simply.

Tools: Excel or Google Sheets, Looker Studio, Power BI or Tableau, basic SQL.

Learning path: The Google Data Analytics Certificate on Coursera (financial aid is available), then build 3 dashboards from free public datasets.

Job titles to search: Data Analyst, Junior Data Analyst, Reporting Analyst, Marketing Analyst.

Automation Specialist HIDDEN GEM

The role: Connect a business's apps so repetitive work happens automatically, for example new leads going straight into a CRM with a welcome email sent.

Skills: Process mapping, logical thinking, workflow design, troubleshooting, basic AI tool use.

Tools: Zapier, Make, n8n, Airtable, AI assistants.

Learning path: Zapier's and Make's free learning centres. Automate 3 tasks in your own business and record a short walkthrough of each.

Job titles to search: Automation Specialist, Zapier Expert, No-Code Automation Consultant, AI Automation Specialist.

6 Design, Product & Video

> Creative and problem-solving roles where your portfolio does most of the talking.

UI/UX Designer

The role: Design how apps and websites look and feel so they're easy and pleasant to use.

Skills: User research, wireframing, prototyping, visual design, usability testing.

Tools: Figma, FigJam, Maze, Notion.

Learning path: The Google UX Design Certificate on Coursera (financial aid available), then 3 portfolio case studies showing the problem, your process and the result.

Job titles to search: UI/UX Designer, Product Designer, UX Researcher.

Product Operations Specialist HIDDEN GEM

The role: Support product teams by organising feedback, tracking launches, writing documentation and keeping teams aligned. A non-coding route into tech product work.

Skills: Organisation, documentation, stakeholder communication, basic data, process improvement.

Tools: Jira, Linear, Notion, Productboard, Google Sheets.

Learning path: Free product management content from Product School and similar communities. Write a mock product spec for an app you use daily.

Job titles to search: Product Operations Specialist, Product Operations Associate, Associate Product Manager.

Video Editor

The role: Edit short-form and long-form videos for creators, brands and YouTube channels.

Skills: Pacing and storytelling, captions, sound design, thumbnails, keeping viewers watching.

Tools: CapCut, Premiere Pro, DaVinci Resolve (free), Descript.

Learning path: DaVinci Resolve's free official training. Re-edit popular videos as practice and build a reel.

Job titles to search: Video Editor, Short-Form Video Editor, YouTube Editor.

7 Security

Cybersecurity GRC Analyst HIDDEN GEM

The role: GRC means Governance, Risk and Compliance. You help companies follow security rules and standards, assess risks and prepare for audits. It's the least technical door into cybersecurity.

Skills: Risk assessment, policy writing, understanding security frameworks like ISO 27001 and SOC 2, audit preparation, attention to detail.

Tools: Vanta or Drata, Google Workspace, Jira, spreadsheets.

Learning path: The Google Cybersecurity Certificate on Coursera, then ISC2's entry-level Certified in Cybersecurity (CC). Learn the basics of ISO 27001.

Job titles to search: GRC Analyst, Compliance Analyst, IT Risk Analyst, Security Compliance Associate.

Where to find these jobs

Apply where companies post roles open to Nigeria, and always check a listing's location rules before you apply.

Website	Best for	Cost to apply	Tip
Himalayas	Remote jobs filtered by country	Free	Use the country filter so you only see roles open to Nigeria
We Work Remotely	Marketing, sales, support and tech	Free	Look for the "Anywhere in the World" tag
LinkedIn Jobs	All 25 careers, plus networking	Free	Set alerts for the exact job titles in this guide
Wellfound	Startup roles	Free	Good for partnerships, growth and product operations
Remote OK	Tech-leaning remote roles	Free	Fewer Nigeria-specific results, so filter by Worldwide too
Upwork and Fiverr	Freelance projects	Free to join, fees on earnings	Upwork charges a 0 to 15% service fee per contract plus Connects to apply (details)

Two habits that raise your chances:

- Put "Lagos, Nigeria" or "Remote, Nigeria" on your CV. Don't hide your location.
- Search job descriptions for "Nigeria" or "Africa." Companies that already hire Nigerians are likely to hire more (RemoteStack).

How to get paid from Nigeria

Foreign employers usually pay through an employer-of-record platform like Deel, or into a USD account you open with a Nigerian-friendly service. Popular options include Payoneer, Grey, Raenest and Cleva. Compare their exchange rates and withdrawal fees before you choose, and keep a second option ready as a backup (Grey).

Scam red flags

Nigeria's EFCC received over 1,200 complaints about fake US visas and job offers in 2025 alone (Guardian Nigeria). Walk away if a "job":

- Asks you to pay a registration, training or "starter kit" fee.
- Reaches you on WhatsApp or Telegram without you ever applying.
- Asks for crypto deposits or your bank login.
- Promises big daily earnings for simple tasks like liking posts.
- Has no real company website, or the recruiter's email doesn't match the company domain.

The rule: a real job pays you. You never pay it.

Your first 30 days

1. Days 1 to 3: Pick one career from this guide. Write down why it fits you.
2. Days 4 to 14: Complete the free learning path for that career.
3. Days 15 to 21: Create 2 or 3 portfolio pieces that show you can do the work.
4. Days 22 to 25: Update your LinkedIn and CV with the job title you're targeting.
5. Days 26 to 30: Apply to 5 roles a day on the websites above, and track every application in a spreadsheet.

You won't land a job in 30 days every time, but you'll be ahead of most people who never start.
